

Catalyzing Social Change & Social Justice

Have you seen movies with people chaining themselves to trees to prevent the bad guys from bulldozing a forest? That's what we're talking about here. One of the most satisfying ways to change the world is to take a stand for a cause you're passionate about and that you believe in. This is why we want you to really get into the Life Direction Before Life Debt program and find out what gets your blood pumping!

Many of the positions that go along with being a catalyst for social change are traditionally thought of as volunteer or semi-volunteer positions, but the world is changing. As more and more people “wake up” and see the inequalities, corruption and worn out social structures, there will be increased funding available to support these issues. This is great for those of you who are passionate about working on the front lines of change!

So what are you waiting for? Find out what you are passionate about and get out there! Review the opportunities listed below to see what interests you, then do some more research. Find out what's required of you to get started towards that career field. Which college should you attend? Are there internships available? Where are these jobs located and is that a place you'd like to live? Do you know someone in that career field? Best of luck during your research!
